

CSO DEGREE CHECKLIST

Student's name: _____ Year entering the program _____

REQUIREMENTS	COURSES/EXAMS/THESIS	M.S.	Ph.D.
Does not count toward total degree hours.	Statistics deficiency remedied by the end of first year?
Two advanced methodology courses, one qualitative and one quantitative, are required for the Ph.D. If entering without a master's, complete one as part of your M.S. program.	HCD 591e: Qualitative Methods: Ethnography (4 credit hours, offered fall odd years)
	HCD 591g: Qualitative Methods: Grounded Theory (4 credit hours, offered fall even years)
	HCD 594: Quantitative Methods (4 credit hours, offered every spring)
	Other approved course:
	Other approved course:
Required of all first year students.	HCD 531: Community Studies Theory (4 credit hours, offered every fall)
A total of three CSO substantive courses are required for the Ph.D. If entering without a master's, complete one as part of your M.S. program.	HCD 533: Community in American Society (4 credit hours, offered every spring)
	HCD 534: Neighborhood Effects Human Dev (4 credit hours, offered every fall odd years)
	HCD 535: Community Development (4 credit hours, offered every spring)
	HCD 536: Education & Human Capital (4 credit hours, offered every spring)
	HCD 537: Experiential Learning (4 credit hours, offered fall odd years)
	HCD 538: Community Mobilization (4 credit hours, offered every fall)
Two 4-credit hour advanced statistics courses are required of all Ph.D. students.	Statistics Course I:
	Statistics Course II:
At least one 500-level supporting course, plus additional courses as needed to meet or exceed the total number of hours required. Any of the above courses may be used as supporting courses if they have not been used to meet core degree requirements. No more than 4 hours may be for reading courses (HCD 598).	Supporting Course I:
	Supporting Course II:
	Supporting Course III:
	Supporting Course IV:

Options and minors may be used to fill your supporting program hours.	Supporting Course V:
Eight hours are required for the M.S. & 32 additional hours for the Ph.D.	HCD 599: Thesis
Students entering without an approved master's thesis should successfully complete their thesis (or thesis equivalency) by the end of their second year.	Master's Thesis
This should be successfully completed the end of your second beyond the master's degree.	Qualifying Exam (a.k.a. "critical analysis paper")
This is typically completed the in the semester following successful completion of the qualifying exam.	Preliminary Exam (defense of the dissertation proposal)
This should be timed in accordance with Graduate College degree list deadlines – see Graduate Secretary.	Final Exam (defense of the dissertation)
This should be timed in accordance with Graduate College deposit deadlines – see Graduate Secretary.	Deposit of the dissertation with the Graduate College
	Number of Hours Taken
	Total Hours Required	32	68
Total Hours Required: Entering with master's degree: 68 Entering without master's degree: 100

Advising notes: